

February 13, 2007

Dr. Lotte Bailyn will present a talk titled “Beyond Bias and Barriers,” on March 8, 2007. Dr. Bailyn will discuss the findings of the National Academies on academic women in science and engineering.

The presentation, part of the Women, Science, and Society Seminar Series, will take place in room 119 of the Maxwell Dworkin building at 33 Oxford St. in Cambridge from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., with a reception to follow.

Dr. Bailyn, a Professor of Management at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is the author of Breaking the Mold: Redesigning Work for Productive and Satisfying Lives and Beyond Work-Family Balance: Advancing Gender Equity and Workplace Performance.

For more information, visit <http://faculty.harvard.edu/events>

Contact:

Sylviose Dossous
Sylviose_Dossous@harvard.edu
(617) 495-9228